

Financials Income Fund Historical Allocation

Financials focus designed to generate attractive yield with low correlation to traditional fixed income

The Fund seeks to generate current income across various market environments with a secondary focus on generating positive total return. The Fund has a long-term focus on the financial sector and invests primarily in banks, including senior and subordinated debt, TruPS and equities, as well as debt of other financial services companies, including finance companies, brokerage and advisory firms, insurance companies, BDCs and REITs. The team has the freedom to invest in securities outside of indices, lowering the expected correlation to traditional fixed income, and employs a bottom-up credit selection process to select individual issues.

Mutual fund investing involves risk; Principal loss is possible. Investments in debt securities typically decreases when interest rates rise. This risk is usually greater for longer-term debt securities. Investments in lower rated and non-rated securities present a greater risk of loss to principal and interest than higher rated securities. Investments in asset-backed and mortgage-backed securities include additional risks that investors should be aware of including credit risk, prepayment risk, possible illiquidity and default, as well as increased susceptibility to adverse economic developments. Derivatives involve risks different from, and in certain cases, greater than the risks presented by more traditional investments. Derivatives may involve certain costs and risks such as illiquidity, interest rate, market, credit, management and the risk that a position could not be closed when most advantageous. Investing in derivatives could lose more than the amount invested. The Fund can make short sales of securities, which involves the risk that losses in securities may exceed the original amount invested. Investments in foreign securities involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods. The Fund is non-diversified, so it may be more susceptible to being adversely affected by a single corporate, economic, political or regulatory occurrence than a diversified fund. For more information on these risks and other risks of the Fund, please see the Prospectus.
